Victorian & Edwardian Internal Doors

Solid timber doors with engineered flat panels.

These doors feature either a traditional stepped mould (DR630 and DR631), typical of the Edwardian and Art Deco eras, or a distinctive insertion mould (DR600, DR609V and DR611) found in Victorian and Edwardian style homes. Whether you are restoring or replicating, these doors achieve the authentic appearance of the doors from these eras.
